I have noted a callback request in this demo. A human would need to confirm the date, time, timezone, and contact permission. No real callback is booked.